Hongkons, April 24th, 1884.

The question of the extradition of Chinese criminals from Hongkong is one of great difficulty from whatever side it be approached. On the one hand, if men who have fled to Hongkong to escape arrest and trip on a criminal charge in China be given up to the Chinese authorities, they will almost certainly be tortured and treated in a mannor altogether repugnant to civilised ideas and no confidence whatever can be felt in the justice of their trial. Some years ago Sir EDMUND HORNBY, late Chief Justice of H.B.M.'s Court in China and Japan, wrote a letter to the Times, in which he strongly urged this view of the case. On the other hand, it would be clearly prejudicial to the good government of this colony to allow it to be made a Cave of Adullam in which the whole of the criminals of China might find a safe refuge. In addition to this, if we refused-to-grant-rendition-to-China, she might retaliate by refusing to give up fugitives from justice who escape from Hongkong to the opposite mainland, in which case crime in the colony would to a large extent go impunished. The police not infrequently have to avail of the good offices of the Authorities at Kowloon to assist them in the apprehension of persons accused of crime committed in Hongkong; if the facilities thus afforded were withdrawn grave injury would be done to the interests of peace and order. A correspondent signing himself "Fiat Justitia" has been writing to the N. C. Daily News with reference to the extradition case now pending in Hongkong. We will give his statement of the case and examine it and the arguments he bases upon it. "The main facts of the case," he says, "are these. Eleven Chinese Christians of the province of Kwangtung have sought refuge in Hongkong in order to escape from a bitter persecution that a tyrannical clap hadsuscitated against them. These refugees had previously been visiting their friends in Kwangtung, and it happened that a murder was committed in the same house or village where they were staying; and the Chinese Government, under the pretext that these mon are guilty of the said murder, has in structed its Ambassador at London, Marquis TSENG, to ask Earl GRANVILLE for the surrender of these eleven Chinese to the Kwangtung native authorities. In consequence of to the ground. this demand, the Government of Hongkong has received instructions from home to deliver up these Chinese Christians. As yet they have not been surrendered, but they are imprisoned at Hongkong on this unsupported charge of murder having been made against them. Meantime some influences have been | steamer. brought to bear on the home Government to stay any such extradition until it can be judicially proved that these unfortunate Chinamen are really guilty of the crime imputed to them." "Fiat Justitia" can hardly claim to be a man of judicial mind, or he would have seen the importance of advancing some evidence in support of the sweeping is Acting Registrar-General. statements he here makes. If, as he inferentially affirms, there has been no judicial investigation, how does be arrive at the conclusion that the charge made against the men is a trumped-up one, and that the Chinese Government are acting under a "pretext?" modore G. D. Morant, successor to Commodore in the case roferred to are of course entitled guilty of bringing a false charge until the case has been tried. they should be given up. They have accordingly been re-arrested and are at being conducted. The correspondent says: are guilty of this murder, and no legal proof has ever been tendered that they are culpably implicated in the murder of which they are accused." This statement, as regards the latter part of it, can hardly be considered in accordance with fact. He adargue that the Chinese Government not being a civilized Power cannot therefore be Notice. To avoid delay in the execution of admitted to share in the privileges of our it Orders it is particularly requested that all ternational criminal legislation, which have business communications be addressed to the been adopted to guide our relations with Christian and civilised nations, until it has qualified itself for such participation by asto the just and humane principles on which such international obligations are founded. In support of this argument he cites the authority of Dr. Erskine Holland. "Fiat Justitia" does not in any way trouble himself to deal with the difficulty the adoption of this view of the case would raise.

Hongkong to be made an asylum for as Advertisements and Subscriptions which are not many of the criminals of China as choose to avail themselves of it? Ho seems, however, to have some obscurely lurking consciousness that he is on the horns of a dilemma. but apparently thinks he effectually escapes making the extraordinary suggestion On the 23rd April at St. John's Cathedral, by the that the accused should not be given up Rev. W. Jonnings, M.A., Colonial Chaplain, PHINEAS | because they are Christians. We trust that [829 in Hongkong a Buddhist, or Taoist, or adherent of any other faith, will always meet House, Five Oaks. Jersey, Yourck Jones Murkow, with the same justice and consideration that happens that in our own and other countries Christians are not found incapable of crime, and we fail to see that the fact that a Chinaman accused of crime is a Christian is to be taken as evidence of his innocence. "Fiat Justitia" ncidentally refers to the prisoners as having fled-to-Hongkong-for-refuge-against-an anti-Christian persecution." but this description seems to rest on no better basis han that because the men are said to be Christians therefore the demand or their rendition on a charge of murder is an anti-Christian persecution. it could be established that the action taken by the Chinese Government was in the nature of an anti-Christian persecution, then indeed the Government of Hongkong would be justified in refusing to give the men up, but had the Shanghai correspondent had any evidence to that effect we think he would not have failed to produce it. There have been plenty of extradition cases before this one, but we have not heard the Chinese Government accused of an anti-Buddhist, or anti-Taoist, or anti-Confucian persecution because the persons whoserendition wa applied for in those cases happened to profess either the one or the other religion. "Fiat Justitia" goes on to say:-"On turning owever, to the Treaty of Tientsin, under ticle XXI, of which the Chinese claim extradition of its eleven subjects who have fled ungkong for refuge against an anti Christain persecution, it will be found that the prima facie evidence mentioned in international jurisprudence as justifying such claim, is not sufficient under treaty stipulations to necessitate the Government of Hongkong giving these men up. It is expressly provided for in that Article: criminal subjects of China shall take refuge in Hongkong, they shall, on proof of their guilt, be delivered up. Of course this means that their guilt must be proved by such evidence as is required in a British Court of Justice to substantiate their culpability." This point has been well settled by practice. There is no provision as to what is to constitute proof of guilt, but the practice has always been for the magistrate to take all the evidence forthcoming in the case, and upon this evidence the Governor orders the rendition of the levening. men or otherwise as he may think right. With such a provision in the treaty the argument of the correspondent that China is not entitled to rendition of her criminals because she is not civilized of course falls

The original intention was to take the vessel above the bridge to the works of Sir William Armstrong and Co., where artillery on the order of the Chinese Government, was to be shipped. This stop has, however, been abandoned, and the warship has been taken down to the quay of the North-Eastern-Marine Engineer ing Company at Wallsend, in order that the guns might be placed on board by means of the shear less there. The authorities, however, have in terfered, and have for the time being insisted on the detention of the Nin Thin. The present disturbances between China and France have led, it appears, to the impression that a breach of neutrality laws may be committed if the vessel is allowed to depart with the gunson board. English police officers, or officials, have been placed on board, and no one allowed to approach the ship without direct permission. The vessel will remain under detention until the point involved by the placing of guns on board has been settled The Nin Thin, of which we have already given an account, was built in Germany for the Chinese Government. Tso has only resigned the Governor-Generalship of Liang Kinng, he still retains the office of Southern High Commissioner of Foreign Affairs: Chang Chih-tung has been called to Peking to be a momber of the Grand Council, &c.; therefore the war party is now complete, but it will only last till they have received more severe lessons from the French than they have received in Tonquin. Eight tenths of the Peking people still believe in the Black Flag victories; and that on 15th March they got Bacninh and Sontai back from the French, and that the true telegrams are got up by the Peace Party and Foreigners. They are certain that Bacninh and Sontai are taken because the date is given. much for the foreign-owned native papers. Her Majesty is no doubt better informed.

Great pressure was brought to bear on her from the War Party; even the Emperor's father, the Seventh Prince, declared in strong language: "If heaven favours my son and it is the will of heaven that my son should be Emperor, the French will be beaten; if not, then it is better not to rule at all: better to rule in honour than in disgrace." Her Majosty has therefore laid all the responsibility on him, which, it appears, he has accepted. He will again retreat into retirement as he did in 1880, when he finds the danger unavoidable. All are anxiously waiting to know Her Majesty's decision in regard to the memorials by the Consors and the Seventh Prince against Li Hung-chang, for on this decision will much depend future events, and a clearer idea will be gained of the future policy at Peking.
